Managed Services

What Is It?

Many companies are taking their businesses global to remain competitive. Ensuring your business remains compliant is a key component of fulfilling trade. Increasing trade challenges coupled with the daunting process of sorting through Global Customs regulations while remaining compliant can be an overwhelming task. To help ease the burden of navigating the complexities of trade, Global eTrade Services (GeTS) is introducing Managed Services for North America.

Our specialists have the expertise to quickly move your goods in compliance with North American customs and import regulations. Importers may choose to self-file with any of GeTS Web Services, file with GeTS Business Outsourced Processing, or take advantage of our completely Managed Services. GeTS Managed Services enables you to focus on other areas of your business that improve the quality of service you provide to customers, increase operational efficiency, and save costs.

Let GeTS Be Your Guide!

GeTS will guide traders through the importing or exporting process, assist in classifying the goods, act as a liaison between the trader and the government, and advise the importer of the regulations associated with each commodity for the importer to gain a better understanding of international trade.

Most traders are focusing on their businesses and cannot always devote the time and attention it takes to accurately make entries for their freight, so appointing a knowledgeable partner to handle this part of the business can allow users to continue to focus on increasing sales.
